Planner's comments

My intention in planning the courses was to use an area that few competitors would have visited in the Southern Championships in March or would visit the next day, and so the north-eastern part of the forest contained the majority of the controls. As the only available car parks are on the western side of the area (permission to park on the open heath next to the start was refused) and I did not want the shorter courses to cross the Highland Water, the 1.5k walk from the car park to the start was inevitable.

The courses were designed to be a little shorter than is usual for a Sunday Club event with a winning time on the A course of 50-55 minutes; the bracken died down just in time for this to be realised. I feel that the different planning philosophies of Lubor Velecky and myself was an added attraction to those who competed on both days. My apologies to the dozen or so who had to be content with hand-drawn courses on their maps; I used the numbers on the various courses in the SUOC event last March and the SOC event in May to predict the numbers on each course; there was more demand for the longer courses than I expected but a lot of D and Wayfarers course maps were left over - perhaps those who do the shorter courses regard orienteering purely as a Sunday morning sport.

John Sanz

Controller's comments

Economically planned courses and overprinted maps reduced my workload considerably. Unfortunately the heavy rain of the preceding week and on the morning of the event, caused Highland Water to swell and for safety's sake we decided to build an ad-hoc bridge. This, unfortunately, delayed the start, as the crossing points had to be marked on the maps by hand, and meant that I only had time to check 75% of the controls before the first start time. By Sod's law, two of the remaining controls were transposed, so I must apologise to the first few C and D course competitors.

The late start times were appreciated by those travelling a long distance to the event, but presented problems due to the rapidly failing light and people still out in the forest. I would recommend that in future events, courses close at least an hour before dusk.

Alan Loader

Organiser's comments

Thanks to all SUOC members who carried all the equipment from the car park to the start/finish and vice-versa and for their continuous help throughout the day. Thanks also to the competitors who helped in carrying the equipment back to the car park. May I apologise for the delay at the start and for the lack of small change. I hope you all enjoyed yourselves and that we will see you again at Shave Wood on December 5th.

Ian Stewart
