

November Classic 2000

Hampton Ridge and Sandy Balls

Badge Event

Organiser's Comments

Our thanks must go to Vincent Stammers and his staff at Sandy Balls Holiday Park for the use of their first class amenities. I'm sure you will agree that the longish walks to and from the event were more than compensated for by their excellent facilities. In particular the hot showers were appreciated by the late starters who were unlucky enough to be finishing in the cold and wet.

Organising this large event and appreciating the efforts and expertise of most of our club members helps to remind me of the work done by other clubs throughout the year. As this was our first venture into electronic punching I would like to thank Jerry Newcombe and David Currie for doing a splendid job with the new technology. As it turned out the timed back-up finish was unnecessary but it gave us reassurance. Thanks are also due to Bristol O.K. from whom we hired most of the kit and who also gave helpful advice.

Favourable comments about the courses have been received and our thanks must go to the co-planners and controller. As at the National event in Wales the previous week the control gatherers had to go out in the foulest of weather so that the electronic gadgetry could be passed on to next users.

There was a good turn out for the non badge courses held in the Sandy Balls grounds and in retrospect I should have indicated in the final details that registration for these events was at the respective starts. Apologies to anyone who was confused by this.

Our entries team were surprised that many e-cards were not registered with BOF. It would help officials at future events if you could make sure yours is.

For the last few years the Classic has been in new territory on predominantly open heath land at the northern edges of the Forest. Next year we return to one of the mainly forested areas in the heart of the New Forest and we look forward to welcoming you again on November 4th, 2001.

Planner's Comments

I hope you all enjoyed the event. We enjoyed planning on what is definitely amongst the best terrain we have in the New Forest. Very few events take place without problems, and this was no exception. Course 4 caused us problems even before the event took place, with a control missing in the course description list sent with the final details and printed on the map. The course description list had to be printed again and stuck on the maps, thanks to Bill Davidson and the map bagging team. To continue its jinxed life course 4 had control 11 (412) digitised in the wrong place over the shallow depression (413). This was discovered during the event and the Gaz adjudicated that anyone on course 4 punching control 11 at 413 should not be disqualified. Thanks Gary for that, and all the work you put in, looking at and agreeing our courses and your help on the day. In particular Gaz's speedy drive along Hampton Ridge to control 388, which had been vandalised in a 15 minute window of opportunity, between checking and the first SOC competitor arriving, averted a much bigger problem. Thanks to Jill Holt for promptly reporting it. Thankfully SportIdent's program allows a replacement unit to be incorporated during the event, thus minimising manual re-instatement of competitors.

We would like to put on record our thanks to the forest team, who put out controls on Saturday in beautiful weather, checked them early on Sunday morning, patrolled them during the event in reasonable weather, and were then faced with bringing them back in during a most violent storm, when most of us got soaked to the skin. I find it annoying to say the least that a control can still go missing with all the effort we put in, all we can do is to apologise to those affected and we hope it did not detract from your enjoyment of the event. The winning times seem to mostly conform to BOF guidelines, with some a little on the long side, but planning has to be based on the top competitors in each class, regardless of them competing.

However, for myself (Colin Hicks) my abiding memory of the event was witnessing Gaz running down the re-entrant at speed towards the site of control 388 brandishing a replacement SportIdent unit and stand and shouting his arrival to half a dozen confused competitors and them punching the unit before Gary barely had a chance to fix it into the ground! I just wished I had my camera.

Controller's Comments

I always regret offering to control an event that turns out to be in a really nice piece of terrain and is well favoured on the day. This year's Classic proved to be just so!

I haven't actually orienteered in the New Forest for some years as other commitments (normally the New York City Marathon) have taken first place. But this year offered my help and am really pleased despite the downpour later in the day.

The courses on the whole were fair and from the comments of the competitors at the finish were a challenge.

The slight overprint error on course 4 affected a few; I felt it fair to deem them competitive.

The vandalism of another control affected a few again and we have credited them with a complete run too.

As to using SportIdent, I have very mixed views. It certainly favours competitors with the ability to provide them with splits at the finish but the headache it causes the organisers is a very large negative. I'm no Luddite but somehow feel this is technology for technologies sake. (Almost like the statement "One day all shopping will be done on the internet!!") One slight glitch and the whole thing collapses. A stolen "station" is a costly thing and damp conditions put all electronic backup systems in jeopardy too. All organisers must have some manual backup.

This is particularly crucial to enable organiser and controller to assess who is still out in the forest as the event winds down. A stub checking system is simple but very efficient!

Bill and Colin were a joy to work with and the SOC club spirit was a credit too. Here's to next year's event in which I hope to be a competitor.

Colour-Coded Event

Hampshire saw some wet and windy weather during the days leading up to the Classic that resulted in some on the day course alterations to the long wayfarers. The River Avon was high and had over run one control and threatened a second, so both were bypassed on the day. Some last minute taping on one leg was added to guide competitors round fallen trees. Luckily, hard hats and waders were not required by the controller on the day!

Some of the times and the number of people who retired on the light green, suggest that a number of competitors tried running up a standard or two on the day.

String Course

Since we had mapped Sandy Balls (twice), we knew which was the best area for a string course (as near as possible to car parking, beautiful, no/little ground vegetation, variety, plenty of interest). The only snag was that 'what goes down must come up'. But all of you made it up the steep and difficult (especially after all the rain) final climb over 20 m. We hope that you felt proud! We certainly admired your determination and skill. Sorry about the rain at the end - this was the first wet string course we have had in 10 years of running SOC string courses. Thank you all for taking part.
